myON Samples

Overview

After students finish reading each book in myON, at the teacher's discretion, the student may be prompted to complete a comprehension quiz. A student will spend approximately 10 minutes to complete a quiz. Each Book Quiz has 5 questions that are randomly selected from a bank of up to 12 questions. This formative assessment takes a look at 5 areas of comprehension, allowing for a quick check to assess student weaknesses in comprehension skills (visible to the educator and to the student) immediately after reading the book. The quiz is just one measure of assessment that myON reader offers in looking at a student's reading progress. The book quizzes test comprehension in main idea, supporting details, vocabulary, inference, and interpretation.

Each of these 5 skills can be classified within the 6 different levels of Bloom's Taxonomy:

- > Main Idea- 2nd level of comprehension (to understand information)
- > A Main Idea question asks about the main point of the book or story (i.e., what kind of ecosystem is the ocean?, where is Katie going?).
- > Supporting Details- 3rd level of application (to use information)
- > A Supporting Detail question asks about obvious details that are in the text (i.e., who is standing in quietly with Alan?).
- > Vocabulary- 2nd level of comprehension (to understand information)
- > A Vocabulary question has two versions. One version could ask about a word or phrase in the text (i.e., which (answer/definition) is a pulse?, what is a mustache?, which word means the same as spoiled?). The other version could ask to identify a word that is in the text based on its meaning (i.e., which word means when something has nothing inside?).
- > Inference- 4th level of analysis (to take information apart)
- > An Inference question asks about content in the book that is implied but not directly stated (i.e., why does a firefighter have to be strong?).
- > Interpretation- 6th level of evaluation (to make judgments about knowledge)
- > An Interpretation question asks students to go beyond the text using their own experience (i.e., why might astronauts miss their families?)
